Assigned To: Hon. David O. Carter –
Dept. 9D

PLAINTIFF’S NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR THE PRELIMINARY
APPROVAL OF CLASS-ACTION SETTLEMENT AND NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT TO CLASS MEMBERS

Hearing: November 25, 2019 at 8:30
AM

Trial Date: None

NOTICE OF MOTION

TO THE DEFENDANTS AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on November 25, 2019 at 8:30 a.m., or what other time as the Court subsequently orders, counsel for the above-captioned parties are to be heard by the Court, where located at 411 West Fourth Street, Santa Ana, California 92701, in the courtroom of Judge David O. Carter. Accordingly, the Plaintiff, by and

1 through his counsel of record, will and hereby move the Court to grant this Motion for 2 the Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement and Notice of Settlement to Class 3 Members, doing so pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e), and requesting 4 that the Court preliminarily approve the proposed settlement as being fair, adequate, 5 and reasonable, and the notice of settlement to class members, and plan for notice, as 6 reasonable and sufficient.

7 This Motion is made following the parties' agreement on a settlement as 8 originally set forth in the parties' Joint Report, Dkt. 398. After the settlement was reached 9 and its principal terms memorialized in a term-sheet, see Joint Report, Dkt. 398, Exhibit 10 A, a Settlement Agreement—included as Exhibit A in the Appendix to the 11 Memorandum accompanying this filing—was finalized and agreed upon by the Settling 12 Parties.

13 This Motion is based on the Supporting Memorandum filed simultaneously with 14 the Motion, as well the documents included in its Appendix, the Declarations of William 15 Marler, Class Counsel, and Jacob Petersen, Plaintiff and Class Representative, along 16 with any arguments of counsel that may be made at the hearing.

17 RELIEF REQUESTED

18 The plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court issue an Order preliminarily 19 approving the settlement as fair, adequate, and reasonable, and to approve the notice of 20 settlement to class members as reasonable and sufficient. The settlement was reached 21 through years of litigation, arms-length negotiations, and multiple Court-ordered 22 mediations, is supported by both class counsel and the class representative, and the 23 settlement amount is justified due to the significant risk, expense, and complexity 24 imposed by continued litigation.

25 The plaintiff also respectfully requests that the Court issue an Order approving 26 the proposed notice of settlement as reasonable and sufficient. The proposed notice is 27 the best practicable under the circumstances as it will be provided in substantially the 28 same manner as the opt-out notices previously approved by the Court. See Order, Dkt.

1 295. Notice will involve mailed postcards directing class members to a website where 2 an online questionnaire will be used to determine if a claimant meets the requirements 3 of the settlement or, in the alternative, allow a claimant the opportunity to object to the 4 terms of the settlement or to request to be excluded from settlement.

5 MOTION

6 Now, therefore, the plaintiffs move the Court to issue an Order preliminarily 7 approving the class-action settlement and notice of settlement to class members.

8 Dated: October 28, 2019

Manual For Complex Litigation, Second § 30.44 (1985)15

1 I. INTRODUCTION AND RELIEF REQUESTED

2 In response to the Scheduling Order that had vacated the trial date, Dkt. 397, 3 after the Notice of Settlement had been filed, Dkt. 396, the Plaintiff Jacob Petersen, 4 along with Defendants Costco Wholesale Corporation, Townsend Farms, Inc., and 5 Fallon Trading Company (“TFI Defendants”), filed a Joint Report that “set forth the 6 principle terms of the settlement, as well as advising the Court in more detail of the 7 additional steps to be imminently completed” before the motion for preliminary 8 approval of the settlement was to be filed. Joint Report, Dkt. 398, at 2/2-4. The Court 9 then granted the Settling Parties until November 30, 2018 to either file a “motion for 10 settlement approval or status report regarding status of the settlement approval.”
11 Scheduling Notice, Dkt. 399.

12 With the additional needed-steps having been accomplished, the Plaintiff now 13 files this Memorandum in Support of the Motion for Preliminary Approval of a Class 14 Action Settlement, also seeking the Court’s approval of the plan for notice of 15 settlement to class members, and the plan for claims-administration, including the 16 rights of class member to seek exclusion from the settlement or to object. As such, the 17 Plaintiff hereby respectfully requests that the Court preliminarily approve the 18 settlement as being fair, adequate and reasonable, and the notice of settlement to class 19 members as reasonable and sufficient.

20 II. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

21 A lengthy procedural history has brought the parties to the present point. A 22 review of this history is justified because it shows that the proposed settlement is the 23 end-result of a hard-fought battle that, but for settlement, would have continued for a 24 lot longer, at great expense, and with great uncertainty of likely outcomes for all 25 involved.

26 The Plaintiff commenced this action in Orange County Superior Court on 27 June 3, 2013; however, the defendant Purely Pomegranate removed the action to this 28 Court on August 22, 2013. Notice of Removal, Dkt. 1. After the Court granted leave

1 to amend, the Plaintiff filed a Second Amended Complaint that added class 2 representatives and related allegations for Arizona, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Nevada, 3 New Mexico, Oregon, and Washington. See Order, Dkt. 17. The deadline for 4 responding to pleadings was extended more than once, including “in light of a 5 mediation scheduled for late February,” Dkt. 29, and pending the ruling on a Motion 6 to Stay the Case pending a Motion to Transfer the actions into multi-district litigation.
7 See Dkt. 32, 34, 36. After a Scheduling Conference, the Court ordered that the 8 Motion for Class Certification be filed by December 15, 2014, and set the trial date for 9 October 6, 2015. See Scheduling Conference Minutes, Dkt. 41.

10 At the request of the Plaintiff, which was unopposed, on June 12, 2014, the 11 Court ordered the parties “to engage in a mediation session ... on or before July 21, 12 2014.” Dkt. 47. Soon after the Court’s order to mediation, the Defendant Purely 13 Pomegranate filed a Motion to Strike Class Allegations, Dkt. 48, along with a Motion 14 to Dismiss for Lack of Standing and For Failure to State a Claim, Dkt. 49. After 15 taking them under advisement, Dkt. 65, the Court subsequently ruled on the Motions, 16 Dkt. 70, resulting in the filing of the Third Amended Complaint, Dkt. 71, on 17 September 4, 2014. Not giving up its right, the Defendant Purely Pomegranate then 18 moved to dismiss with prejudice to the claims of Colorado and Idaho claimants. See 19 Motion to Dismiss, Dkt. 82. After briefing was done, the Motion to Dismiss was 20 denied without oral argument. See Order, Dkt. 90.

21 On October 21, the Court issued an Order to Show Cause Why Cases Should 22 Not Be Consolidated, Dkt. 86, the effect of which would be to bring before the Court 23 both the pending shot-pain class actions and the individual-infection actions.¹
24 Attendance at a mandatory settlement conference was also ordered, first for a 25 conference set to occur on December 12, 2014, Dkt. 95, and then February 12, 2015, 26

27 ¹ The consolidation was eventually put into full effect the following year, mostly relating to actions 28 on behalf of persons alleging injury from Hepatitis A infection. See Minutes of Status Conference, Dkt. 150. Eventually, all individual-infection actions were settled and dismissed.

1 Dkt. 102. Neither one of these conferences resulted in the settlement of any class 2 claims, and thus the litigation related to the class action claims continued, albeit soon 3 without Purely Pomegranate, after there was a stipulation to dismissal at a 4 Scheduling/Status Conference on March 11, 2015. The dismissal was formalized
5 when Court granted Plaintiffs' Unopposed Motion to Dismiss Purely Pomegranate
6 Without Prejudice. See Motion and Order, Dkt. 118, 119.²

7 The Plaintiffs filed their Motion for Class Certification, along with a 8 Memorandum and Declarations in Support, on July 27, 2015. See Dkt. 133-147. The 9 opposition and reply pleadings followed, Dkt. 158-161, with the motion subsequently 10 set for hearing on October 26, 2015. After the hearing, the Court issued an order that 11 sought additional briefing. See Minutes and Minutes Order, Dkt. 168, 169. The 12 Plaintiffs filed their additional briefing on November 3, and the TFI Defendants and 13 United Juice filed their respective briefing a week later, on November 10. See 14 Supplemental Briefing, Dkt. 173, 174, 175. The Court issued its order granting the 15 Motion for Class Certification on January 25, 2016, "insofar as it seeks to certify nine 16 single-state subclasses for purposes of determining liability." See Order RE: Class 17 Certification, Dkt. 181, at 27/4-5.

18 After the certification issue had been had been decided, the discovery that was 19 still to be done was addressed, including depositions of the class representatives that 20 occurred over a two-week period. The Plaintiff Jacob Petersen was deposed on July 21 16, 2016.

22 The Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Court-Approval of the Plan for Notice and 23 Form of Notice, Dkt. 208, on September 21, 2016, with a hearing-date set for October 24 17. The Court granted the Motion and approved the notice-plan and notice form 25 without hearing on October 7. See Order, Dkt. 212. On this same day, the TFI 26 Defendants filed a motion for de-certification, Dkt. 210, which was soon joined by the

27 _____
28 ² The Defendant Townsend Farms dismissed its third-party claims against Purely Pomegranate on August 26, 2016. See Notice of Dismissal, Dkt. 155.

1 Defendant United Juice, Dkt. 213. The Plaintiffs filed their opposition to de-2 certification ten-days later, Dkt. 216, with the TFI Defendants' reply filed seven days 3 later on October 24, Dkt. 221. This same day, the TFI Defendants filed a Motion for 4 Summary Judgment, Dkt. 222, which was stricken as untimely. See Order, Dkt. 225.³

5 After hearing argument of all parties on November 7, the Court issued the 6 Order three days later conditionally denying the Motion to Decertify the Class. See 7 Order, Dkt. 235. The TFI Defendants were also allowed to refile the Motion for 8 Summary Judgment, which occurred on November 21, 2016. The opposition and 9 reply briefing was finished on December 9, with the Court granting leave to file a 10 brief exceeding 25-page limit, and filing of the Plaintiffs' Amended Memorandum in 11 Opposition to the Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment. See Dkt. 248,249,250.
12 (The TFI Defendants' Reply in Support had been filed on December 1, which is also 13 when the Fourth Amended Complaint had been filed. See Dkt. 241, 242.) The hearing 14 on the summary judgment motion was set for January 10, 2017. See Scheduling 15 Notice, Dkt. 256. The hearing on the still-pending motion to approve class notice was 16 also rescheduled to this same day.

17 After hearing argument as previously scheduled, on January 17, 2017, the Court 18 granted the Motion for Summary Judgment "as to any claims of emotional distress 19 due to fear of disease," but otherwise denied the Motion. See Order, Dkt. 266, at 20 16/11-12 and passim. The Final Pretrial Conference was then set for August 14, 2017, 21 with the jury trial set to begin on October 16, 2017. See Minute Order, Dkt. 269.
22 Thus, at this point, the parties proceeded to prepare for trial, with Rule 16 pretrial 23 submissions starting with the filing of Memoranda of Contentions of Fact and Law, 24 Dkt. 283, 284, 286, Witness Lists, Dkt. 285,287,288, and Joint Exhibit List, Dkt. 289.
25 A great many Motions in Limine followed on August 3, Dkt. 296-300, 301, with the 26 Opposition Memoranda and Joinders filed on August 7, Dkt. 303-311, followed by the 27

28 ³ An Ex Parte Application for Reconsideration was also denied. Dkt. 229.

1 lodging of the proposed Final Pretrial Conference Order, Dkt. 301. And although a 2 hearing was held on August 14, the result was the Court’s decision that the parties 3 were to propose a new trial date, Dkt. 316.

4 As ordered, the joint request for a new trial date was filed by August 17, Dkt.
5 317. The Court then set April 3, 2018 as the new trial date, stating that “the parties
6 seemingly agreed California would be the lead-off case for a non-bifurcated liability 7 and damages trial.” See Order, Dkt. 319. Nonetheless, the Court also stated its 8 willingness to “consider a motion to join cases from California, Washington, and 9 Hawaii into a single trial. Id. The Plaintiffs did not file this motion, choosing to 10 proceed first on the California claims.

11 On December 1, 2017, the TFI Defendants filed a Motion to Dismiss 12 Nonresident Subclasses for Lack of Personal Jurisdiction, Dkt. 325, seeking to dismiss 13 all state claims except those on behalf of California claimants, including the Plaintiff 14 Jacob Petersen. The Plaintiffs filed their Opposition on December 18, Dkt. 327, and 15 the TFI Defendants filed a Reply on December 22, Dkt. 330. Finding the “matter 16 appropriate for decision without oral argument,” the Court struck the hearing date and 17 took the motion under submission. Dkt. 331. The Plaintiffs then sought approval of 18 amended notices to class members, and a new trial date to accommodate the need for a 19 sufficient opt-out period for recipients of the notices. The Court issued an order of 20 approval on January 24, Dkt. 336, and the new trial date was now set for July 10, 21 2018. A report on opt-out requests and other details of the notice provided to class 22 members was lodged with the Court on April 25, 2018, Dkt. 351. By the agreement 23 of the parties, that report was supplemented on May 2, 2018 to include additional 24 information about the break-down by state of individuals who had registered as class 25 members, the total being 1,803 individuals, with 1,065 of those being from California.
26 See Supplemental Declaration, ¶ 6, at 3, and Exhibit C, Dkt. 352.

27 As the pretrial preparations began for a second time in earnest, on May 21, 28 2018, TFI Defendants filed a Motion to Compel Trial Plan, Reopen Discovery and

1 Continue Pretrial and Trial Dates. Dkt. 353. In response, the Plaintiffs filed an Ex
2 Parte Application Compelling the Defendants to Cooperate in Good Faith in the 3 Preparation of the Final Pretrial Conference Order. Dkt. 355. Despite the back and 4 forth of the competing filings, in the several weeks that followed, Rule 16 Pretrial 5 Submissions did end up getting filed for a second time, including Memoranda of 6 Contentions of Fact and Law, Dkt. 362, 365, proposed Final Pretrial Conference 7 Order, Dkt 375, and both new and amended Motions in Limine, Dkt. 373-378. The 8 Final Pretrial Conference also occurred on June 25, 2018, with no rulings made on any 9 pending matters, other than the Court's instruction that the trial was going to proceed 10 on July 10, 2018.⁴ The trial date was soon changed, however, to July 23, 2018. See 11 Scheduling Notice, Dkt. 380.

12 On the day that the final pretrial submissions were due to be filed, the Parties 13 filed a Joint Stipulation seeking to continue the pretrial deadlines and trial date in light 14 of the continued progress of settlement negotiations. (For more on this, see Joint 15 Report, Dkt. 398, Section II.C.) The mediation that was hopefully to finalize 16 negotiations could not be scheduled any earlier than October 10, which left the Parties 17 in disagreement on whether amended or new pretrial submissions could be filed (the 18 position of the TFI Defendants), versus whether only those submissions that had not 19 yet been filed remained due, i.e., ones that had been due seven days prior to the 20 previous October 23 trial date (the position of the Plaintiff).⁵ Meanwhile, TFI 21 Defendants continued to vigorously contest all issues and asserted new arguments in a 22 Memorandum of Contentions of Fact and Law, Dkt. 389.

23 It was against this backdrop, at the precipice of trial, that continued negotiations 24

25 ⁴ The Court also kept under submission TFI Defendants' Motion to Dismiss non-California 26 subclasses given that it did not implicate the California claims proceeding to trial, thus meaning that a ruling on the Motion could wait.

27 ⁵ The competing contentions can be surmised from the TFI Defendants' Ex Parte Application to File 28 a New Joint Exhibit List, Dkt. 390, and the Plaintiff's Opposition to the same, Dkt. 391. The Plaintiff did not file a new Memorandum or Witness List.

1 got a toehold. Seeking to capitalize on the progress being made, the parties sought 2 and obtained another extension of the trial date. See Joint Stipulation to Continue All 3 Pretrial Deadlines, Dkt. 382, and Order Extending Trial Date, Dkt. 383. And as set 4 forth in the Joint Report, Dkt. 398, the negotiations ultimately achieved a settlement.

5 III. THE AGREED DEFINITION OF THE SETTLEMENT CLASS AND REQUIREMENTS
6 FOR PARTICIPATING IN THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT.

7 After settlement was reached, and its principle terms memorialized in a term-
8 sheet, see Joint Report, Dkt. 398, Exhibit A, a Settlement Agreement was finalized
9 and agreed upon by the Settling Parties.⁶ What follows is a near-verbatim 10 presentation of the major terms of the settlement as relating to the definition of the 11 settlement class, requirements for participating in the proposed settlement, notice of 12 settlement, claims administration, and the rights of class members to seek exclusion or 13 object to the settlement.

14 A. The Agreed Upon Definition of the Settlement Class for California Claimants.

15 The proposed settlement involves the California subclass that the Court 16 certified, but the Settlement Class is predictably narrower. The definition of the 17 Settlement Class has two components that determine eligibility for Noneconomic 18 Damages and eligibility for Economic Damages, with these components only partly 19 overlapping. To be eligible at all, however, claimants must provide required 20 information (as set forth in the following section) that shows purchase and 21 consumption of Townsend Farms Antioxidant Blend (“Berry Mix”) before obtaining a 22 Hepatitis A vaccination or immune-globulin injection.

23 Eligibility Requirements: Individuals eligible to be part of the Settlement 24 Class must provide a declaration under penalty of perjury that he or she: (a) received a 25 Hepatitis A vaccination or an immune globulin injection between May 31 and 26 June 13, 2013, and (b) was not immune to Hepatitis A on the date of consumption due

27 _____
28 ⁶ For the Court’s ease of reference and review, the Settlement Agreement has been included in an Appendix to this Memorandum as Exhibit A.

1 to an earlier Hepatitis A vaccination or infection.

2 Settlement Class for Non-Economic Damages: Whether an Eligible Claimant
3 received a Hepatitis A vaccination at Costco or a Hepatitis A vaccination or immune 4 globulin injection from a commercial entity or private medical provider, the Claimant 5 would be eligible for Noneconomic Damages of $80.00 provided that he or she meets 6 the following requirements:

7 1. Proof of Purchase: (a) If the Claimant purchased the Berry Mix under 8 his or her Costco member number, the Claimant must provide his or her Costco 9 member number; (b) if the Claimant did not purchase the Berry Mix under his or her 10 Costco member number, the Claimant must provide: (i) the Costco member-number 11 for the purchaser of the Berry Mix consumed by the claimant; (ii) the name of the 12 holder of that Costco member number; and (iii) a description of the location and 13 manner of consumption in a declaration under the penalty of perjury.

14 2. Proof of Vaccination or Immune Globulin Injection: (a) If the 15 Claimant received a Hepatitis A Vaccination free at Costco, the Claims Administrator 16 will check the Claimant against the list of recipients and confirm the Claimant appears 17 on the list of recipients; (b) if the Claimant received a Hepatitis A Vaccination or 18 immunoglobulin injection from a commercial entity or private medical provider, the 19 Claimant must provide documentary proof of the vaccination or injection.

20 Settlement Class for Economic Damages: If an Eligible Claimant received a 21 hepatitis A vaccination or immune globulin injection from a commercial entity or 22 private medical provider, the Claimant would be eligible for Economic Damages to 23 reimburse for the actual cost of the Hepatitis A Vaccination or injection up to a 24 maximum additional amount of $120.00 provided he or she meets the following 25 requirements:

26 1. Proof of Actual Cost of Vaccination or Injection: The Claimant must 27 provide legible, documentary proof of the actual cost paid out of pocket by the 28 Claimant for a Hepatitis A vaccination or immunoglobulin injection (not the total cost

1 of any visit, additional fees or amounts covered by insurance); and

2 2. Proof of Vaccination or Injection Timeframe: The Proof of Actual 3 Cost of Vaccination or Injection reflects that the Claimant received a Hepatitis A 4 vaccination or immunoglobulin injection between May 31 and June 6, 2013.

5 B. Claims Administration, Submission, and Related Settlement Terms.

6 1. Appointment of Claims Administrator. Lead Class Counsel will hire a 7 firm to provide class notice and class administration. To do so, the Settling Parties 8 will solicit bids from at least three qualifying firms and confer before selecting a firm.
9 In the event of a dispute over which firm to hire, the firm with the lowest bid shall 10 become the Claims Administrator. (The three bids have been obtained, and the 11 Settling Parties are in the process of making a selection, which will occur shortly. The 12 Settling Parties will file a supplemental report with the Court once the selection is 13 made.)

14 2. Duties of the Claims Administrator. The Claims Administrator will 15 handle the administration of the Settlement, as follows: The printing, handling, 16 mailing and re-mailing, and administration of the Notice Website as required by the 17 Notice of Settlement, including all related personnel and operating costs, and the 18 processing of Claims, requests for exclusion and other documents submitted as well as 19 the distribution of Settlement payments to Authorized Claimants.

20 After entry of the Preliminary Approval Order, Lead Class Counsel and the TFI 21 Defendants will provide the Claims Administrator with the names and addresses of 22 potential Settlement Class Members known to them (the "Class List"). The Claims 23 Administrator shall then cause the Notice Postcard and Class Action Notice Claim 24 Form ("Notice Package") to be sent by the United States Postal Service first-class 25 mail, postage prepaid, to all potential Settlement Class Members whose name and 26 address appear on the Class List directing them to the Notice Website. The Claims 27 Administrator shall also establish a website where Claimants may submit a Claim 28

1 Form online. In doing so, the Claimant must swear under oath the Eligibility 2 Requirements are met, and submit the Required Documentation to prove their 3 entitlement to compensation, if any.

4 3. Eligibility Time-Period. All Claimants must submit the Claim Form
5 and any documentation required to support a claim for Non-Economic Damages 6 and/or Economic Damages within 21 days of receiving Notice, and in no case more 7 than 30 days from the date of mailing of the Notice (the “Eligibility Period”).

8 4. Review of Submitted Claims. The Claims Administrator shall receive 9 Claims and review each Claimant’s Claim Form and Required Documentation, if any, 10 submitted to the Notice Website, and determine, first, whether the Claim is a valid 11 Claim, in whole or in part, and second, the amount the Claimant is entitled to as 12 compensation under the Settlement. Claim Forms that do not meet the Eligibility 13 Requirements may be rejected, but prior to rejecting a Claim in whole or in part, the 14 Claims Administrator shall communicate with the Claimant in writing, by mail, first 15 class postage pre-paid, to give the Claimant the chance to remedy any curable 16 deficiencies in the Claim Form submitted.

17 The Claims Administrator shall notify all claimants whose Claim the Claims 18 Administrator proposes to reject in whole or in part, setting forth the reasons therefor, 19 and shall indicate in such notice that the Claimant whose Claim is to be rejected has 20 the right to a review. If any Claimant whose Claim has been rejected in whole or in 21 part desires to contest such rejection, the Claimant must, within the timeframe set out 22 in the Settlement Agreement, serve upon the Claims Administrator a notice and 23 statement of reasons indicating the Claimant’s grounds for contesting the rejection 24 along with any supporting documentation and requesting a review thereof by the 25 Court. If a dispute concerning a Claim cannot be otherwise resolved, Lead Class 26 Counsel shall thereafter present the request for review to the Court.

27 Prior to the end of the Eligibility Period, the Claims Administrator shall provide 28 Lead Class Counsel and TFI Defendants’ Counsel with: (1) a list of Approved

1 Claimants; (2) corresponding Claim Forms and Required Documentation, if any; and 2 (3) a corresponding calculation of the total settlement payment approved by the 3 Claims Administrator for each Claimant.

4 5. Settlement Objections and Requests for Exclusion. Any Settlement 5 Class Member shall have the option to request to be excluded from the Settlement on 6 the Notice Website instead of submitting a Claim Form during the Eligibility Period.
7 Settlement Class Members may also request to be excluded from the Settlement by 8 mailing a request to the Claims Administrator during the Eligibility Period. Any 9 potential Settlement Class Member who does not file a timely request for exclusion 10 shall be bound by the Settlement Agreement and all subsequent proceedings, orders, 11 and judgments in this litigation, even if that potential member of the Settlement Class 12 subsequently initiates litigation against the TFI Defendants relating to any of the 13 Released Claims.

14 Any Settlement Class Member who has not filed a request for exclusion and 15 who wishes to object to the fairness, reasonableness, or adequacy of this Agreement or 16 the proposed settlement must serve on Lead Class Counsel and on TFI Defendants' 17 Counsel, and must file with the Court, according to the deadlines set forth in the 18 Settlement Agreement, or as the Court may otherwise direct, a notice of intention to 19 appear and/ or object, together with copies of any papers such Settlement Class 20 Member intends to present to the Court in connection with such objection. Settlement 21 Class Members may make such appearances or objections either on their own or 22 through attorneys hired at their own expense. Any Settlement Class Member who 23 does not appear individually or through counsel and/ or who does not challenge or 24 comment upon the fairness and adequacy of this Agreement shall waive and forfeit 25 any and all rights that she or he may have to appear separately and/ or object.

26 No Settling Party shall encourage any potential Settlement Class Member to file 27 a request for exclusion or encourage or provide any material assistance for any 28 potential Settlement Class Member to file an objection to this Settlement or to file any 1 other action, except as expressly provided herein.

2 C. Maximum Individual Relief, Administration Costs, and Other Fees.

3 1. Total Damages and Cap on the Number of Eligible Claimants. No
4 Claimant is eligible to receive more than a total payment of $200.00 under the Class 5 Settlement, in accordance with the separate limits for the non-economic and economic 6 damage components defined in Section III(A), above. The total number of Claimants 7 eligible for the Class Settlement shall be capped at 3,000.

8 2. Claims Administration Costs. The TFI Defendants shall be responsible 9 for fees and charges owed to the Claims Administrator with respect to the 10 administration of the Settlement, not to exceed $150,000.00. TFI Defendants shall not 11 be responsible, and shall not pay, for any time or costs incurred by Settlement Class 12 Members or their counsel with respect to the negotiation, implementation, or 13 administration of the Settlement, or any costs incurred by any Settlement Class 14 Member in connection with participating in the Settlement, except as provided in the 15 Settlement Agreement.

16 3. Additional Compensation for Class Representative. In addition to 17 payment according to the damage components outlined in Section III(A), the Class 18 Representative will receive an additional $2,500.00 in compensation.

19 4. Attorneys' Fees. Lead Class Counsel waives all attorneys' fees and 20 costs, and will seek no reimbursement, fees, expenses, or costs from the class 21 settlement, nor from the TFI Defendants.

22 IV. THE APPROPRIATENESS OF CLASS TREATMENT HAS BEEN DECIDED, BUT IT 23 REMAINS SUBJECT TO FURTHER DECERTIFICATION ATTEMPTS AND APPEAL.

24 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e) requires judicial approval of any 25 compromise of claims brought on a class-wide basis. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e) (“Claims 26 ... of a certified class may be settled ... only with the court’s approval.”).⁷ “In

27 _____
28 ⁷ Several amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure have been approved and go into effect on December 1, 2018, including amendments to Rule 23. Because this Motion is being filed prior to 1 deciding whether to approve a proposed settlement, the Ninth Circuit has a ‘strong 2 judicial policy that favors settlements, particularly where complex class action 3 litigation is concerned.’” In re Heritage Bond Litig., 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 13555, at 4 *9 (C.D. Cal. June 10, 2005) (citation omitted); see also Officers for Justice v. Civil 5 Serv. Comm’n of the City and Cty. of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir.

6 1982). “[f]here is an over-riding public interest in settling and quieting litigation,” 7 and this is “particularly true in class action suits.” Van Bronkhorst v. Safeco Corp., 8 529 F.2d 943, 950 (9th Cir. 1976); see also Browning v. Yahoo! Inc., 2007 U.S. Dist.
9 LEXIS 86266, at *39 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 16, 2007) (“public and judicial policies strongly 10 favor settlement of class action law suits”).

11 Judicial settlement-approval has two stages: (i) preliminary approval, followed 12 by distribution of notice to the class, and (ii) final approval. Murrillo v. Pac. Gas &
13 Elec. Co., 266 F.R.D. 468, 473 (E.D. Cal. 2010) (“Procedurally, the approval of a class 14 action settlement takes place in two stages.”); see also Nat’l Rural Telecommc’ns 15 Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 525 (C.D. Cal. 2004). “In the first stage of 16 the approval process, the court preliminarily approve[s] the Settlement pending a 17 fairness hearing, temporarily certifie[s] the Class ... , and authorize[s] notice to be 18 given to the Class.” Murillo, 266 F.R.D. at 473 (alterations in original, citation and 19 internal quotations omitted).

20 At this initial preliminary approval stage, the “Court need only determine 21 whether the proposed settlement appears on its face to be fair” and “falls within the 22 range of possible approval.” Williams v. Costco Wholesale Corp., 2010 U.S. Dist.
23 LEXIS 19674, at *15-16 (S.D. Cal. Mar. 4, 2010); see also In re Wireless Facilities
24 Inc. Sec. Litig. II, 253 F.R.D. 607, 612 (S.D. Cal. 2008). In considering whether to 25 grant preliminary approval of a proposed class action settlement, courts make a 26 preliminary evaluation of the fairness of the settlement. At this stage, however, the

27 _____
28 the effective date of the amended rules, the pre-amendment rules apply to the Court’s approval of the proposed settlement.

1 Court is not required to make a final determination as to whether the proposed 2 settlement will ultimately be found to be fair, reasonable, and adequate. Rather, that 3 evaluation is made only at the final approval stage, after notice of the proposed 4 settlement has been given to the members of the class and class members have had an 5 opportunity both to voice their views of the proposed settlement and to exclude 6 themselves from the class. See Williams at *14-15 (“Given that some [] factors cannot 7 be fully assessed until the Court conducts the Final Approval Hearing, ‘a full fairness 8 analysis is unnecessary at this stage.’”).

9 By this motion, Lead Plaintiff requests only that the Court take the first step in 10 the settlement review process - preliminary approval. To this end:

11 [T]he court may grant preliminary approval of a settlement and direct 12 notice to the class if the settlement: (1) appears to be the product of 13 serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations; (2) has no obvious
14 deficiencies; (3) does not improperly grant preferential treatment to class 15 representatives or segments of the class; and (4) falls within the range of possible approval.

16 Spann v. J.C. Penney Corp., 314 F.R.D. 312,319 (C.D. Cal. 2016) (quotations omitted).

17 Where “the parties reach a settlement agreement prior to class certification, 18 courts must peruse the proposed compromise to ratify both the propriety of the 19 certification and the fairness of the settlement.” Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 20 952 (9th Cir. 2003). But in cases like the present one, where the parties reach a 21 settlement agreement after the certification decision has been made, the fairness of 22 the settlement is the only issue that is before the Court, and there is no need to “pay 23 ‘undiluted, even heightened, attention’ to class certification requirements” Id. at 24 952-53 (quoting Amchem Products Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620, 117 S.Ct.
25 2231, (1997)). Similarly, the agreement need not “withstand an even higher standard 26 of scrutiny for evidence of collusion or other conflicts of interest than is ordinarily 27 required” where the settlement is reached after, and not prior to, class certification.
28 Radcliffe v. Experian Info. Sols., 715 F.3d 1157, 1168 (9th Cir. 2013) (noting that

1 such scrutiny is only required when settlement “is negotiated prior to formal class 2 certification”). Nonetheless, the evident intent and willingness of the TFI Defendants 3 to contest all issues relating to certification should still be considered as relevant to 4 other factors that the Court must consider in approving a post-certification settlement, 5 like strength of the plaintiffs case, risk of maintaining class action status, and the 6 expense and complexity of the case. See Churchill Village, LLC v. General Electric, 7 361 F.3d 556, 575 (9th Cir. 2004). Accordingly, it is these other factors that will now 8 be addressed, thus showing the proposed Settlement is a fair result in light of the 9 circumstances present in this action, eliminating the risk that the Class might 10 otherwise recover nothing at all.

11 V. THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT IS FAIR, ADEQUATE, AND REASONABLE AND, 12 THEREFORE, DESERVES THE COURT’S PRELIMINARY APPROVAL.

13 This Court helpfully set forth the factors governing preliminary approval of 14 class settlements in Ma v. Covidien Holding, Inc., No. SACV-12-02161-DOC, 2014
15 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 13296 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 31, 2014). In that Order granting preliminary 16 approval of a class action settlement, the Court stated:

17 To determine the preliminary fairness of an agreement, the Court 18 balances “the strength of plaintiffs’ case; the risk, expense, complexity, 19 and likely duration of further litigation; the risk of maintaining class 20 action status throughout the trial; the amount offered in settlement; the 21 extent of discovery completed, and the stage of the proceedings; the 22 experience and views of counsel; [and] the presence of a governmental 23 participant.” Staton, 327 F.3d at 959 (quoting Molski v. Gleich, 318 F.3d 24 937, 953 (2003)); see also Ching [v. Siemens Indus.], 2013 U.S. Dist.
25 LEXIS 169279, at *17[(N.D. Cal. Nov. 26, 2013)] (applying these factors 26 to a preliminary approval of class settlement). Preliminary approval is 27 appropriate if “the proposed settlement appears to be the product of 28 serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations, has no obvious
deficiencies, does not improperly grant preferential treatment to class representatives or segments of the class, and falls within the range of possible approval.” In re Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d 1078, 1079 (N.D. Cal. 2007) (citing MANUAL FOR COMPLEX LITIGATION, Second § 30.44 (1985)). The question for preliminary

1 approval of a settlement is whether it is “within the range of 2 reasonableness.” Ross v. Trex Co., Inc., No. C 09-670, 2009 U.S. Dist.
3 LEXIS 69633, at *9 (N.D. Cal. July 30, 2009).

4 Ma, 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 13296 at *9-*10.

5 It must also be recalled that the Ninth Circuit has a “strong judicial policy that 6 favors settlements, particularly where complex class action litigation is concerned.”
7 Linnry v. Cellular Alaska P’ship, 151 F.3d 1234, 1238 (9th Cir. 1998) (quotation 8 omitted). As the Ninth Circuit has emphasized, quoting Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d 9 615, supra:

10 “it must not be overlooked that voluntary conciliation and settlement are 11 the preferred means of dispute resolution. This is especially true in 12 complex class action litigation ...” Id. at 625. This policy is also 13 evident in the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the Local Rules of 14 the United States District Court, Central District of California, which 15 encourage facilitating the settlement of cases. See FED. R. CIV. P.
16 16(a)(5) (one of the five purposes of a pretrial conference is to facilitate 17 settlement); L.R. 16-2.9 (requiring parties to exhaust all possibilities of 18 settlement); L.R. 16-15 to 15.9 (setting forth policies and procedures for 19 settlement including encouraging disposition of civil litigation by 20 settlement by any reasonable means).

21 In re Syncor ERISA Litig., 516 F.3d 1095, 1101 (9th Cir. 2008). For all of these 22 reasons it has been more than once observed that a court’s role is not to second-guess 23 the terms of the agreement. Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 1026.

24 Because the terms of the settlement agreement that the parties have reached are 25 are demonstrably “within the range of reasonableness, it is respectfully submitted that 26 the preliminary approval of the proposed settlement is appropriate.

27 A. The Proposed Settlement is the Product of Serious, Informed, Non-Collusive 28 Negotiations Conducted by Experienced Legal Counsel.

Given that the settlement now before the Court is the end result of over five years of hard-fought litigation, punctuated by multiple Court-ordered and other mediations, it seems impossible to deny that the negotiations that achieved this

1 settlement were serious and non-collusive. As was true in the settlement approved in 2 Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1027 (9th Cir. 1998), “[t]here is no evidence 3 to suggest that the settlement was negotiated in haste or in the absence of information 4 illuminating the value of plaintiffs’ claims.” And although the relationship between 5 legal counsel for the TFI Defendants and the Plaintiff has always been civil and 6 professional, it has also been nothing if not arms-length. See Marler Decl., ¶ 12, at 9.
7 Indeed, as lead counsel for the Plaintiff observed in explaining why the settlement 8 obtained was the best possible under the circumstances, “it probably goes without 9 saying that, by waiving attorney-fees and costs, there is nothing in the present 10 settlement that seeks to benefit counsel for the plaintiff and class.” Id.

11 Furthermore, these negotiations were at arms’-length and were facilitated 12 through mediation before a highly-experienced and well-regarded mediator, Mr.
13 Lindstrom. See Gregory P. Lindstrom, Esq. Profile, at 14 <http://www.phillipsadr.com/bios/gregory-lindstrom>; see also Khanna v. Intercon Sec.
15 Sys. Inc., 2014 WL 1379861, at *9 (E.D. Cal. Apr. 8, 2014) (“That the settlement was 16 reached during an outside mediation supports the conclusion that the settlement was 17 not collusive.”); Villegas v. J.P. Morgan Chase & Co., 2012 WL 5878390, at *6 (N.D.
18 Cal. Nov. 21, 2012) (finding assistance of an experienced mediator in the settlement 19 process “tends to support the conclusion that the settlement process was not 20 collusive”).

21 Finally, in addition to the complete absence of any evidence of collusion, haste, 22 or a lack of seriousness by the experienced legal counsel involved, there is the very 23 late stage of the proceedings. This case has been on the brink of trial twice, with all of 24 the in-depth preparation that trial requires. This also means that discovery was not 25 simply done to a certain extent; it means that all discovery that was wanted or allowed 26 has been done. As a result, it was surely impossible for there to be any more 27 information available for counsel to evaluate all aspects of this case in deciding 28 whether and for how much to settle. Thus, the present case is likely more the 1 exception than the rule when it comes to settlement of a class action lawsuit, coming 2 as it does at the absolute latest possible opportunity. It is for these reasons, among 3 others, that the settlement reached deserves the deference that is owed “to the private 4 consensual decision of the parties.” See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1027. Consequently, it 5 is respectfully submitted that the settlement that the parties reached, and that is now 6 proposed to the Court, is deserving of preliminary approval.

7 B. The Relative Strength of the Plaintiffs Case Derives from the Successes Already 8 Achieved, None of Which Ensure a Positive Outcome at Trial or On Appeal.

9 In addition to the more general question of assessing the strength of the 10 plaintiffs case, there is the more specific question that looks at the stage of the 11 proceedings when the assessment is made. Where the litigation is not in its early 12 stages, and discovery has been conducted, the fact that the “parties have sufficient 13 information to make an informed decision about settlement,” is a factor that weighs in 14 favor of approving a settlement. See In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 15 459 (9th Cir. 2000) (internal citation and quotation marks omitted). Thus, as already 16 noted, the Court is justified in its acceptance that the experienced legal counsel 17 involved in reaching the settlement in every way assessed the relative strengths and 18 weaknesses of the Plaintiffs case. And although it is unquestionable that Plaintiffs 19 counsel has achieved success in obtaining and defending certification, and 20 successfully opposing summary judgment, none of these successes were sufficient 21 assurances that more could be obtained through trial and appeals that could be 22 obtained by way of this settlement. As the Plaintiffs lead counsel declared in 23 explaining his support of this settlement:

24 In weighing the decision to accept the settlement for which we are now 25 seeking the Court’s approval, a primary motivating factor was my 26 conclusion that the TFI Defendants, with the strong and unstinting 27 backing of its insurer, was willing to invest any amount in attorney-fees 28 and litigation costs to fully defend against both liability and damages, including appealing any issue for which appeal was possible.

1 Marler Decl., ¶7, at 7. He further declared that: “Based on my experience, the 2 settlement we obtained ...is the best that was, or ever would be, available from the TFI
3 Defendants and its insurer.” Id., ¶9, at 8. Finally, Jacob Petersen, Plaintiff and class 4 representative, has reviewed the settlement term-sheet and the final settlement 5 agreement, and discussed both with class counsel. Based on his review and careful 6 consideration, Mr. Petersen has states in his Declaration: “I not only think that the 7 settlement that has been reached is reasonable, fair, and adequate, I fully support and 8 agree to the settlement reached.” See Petersen Declaration, ¶11, at 4. Accordingly, the 9 settlement obtained has the support of both class counsel and the class representative.

10 C. The Risk, Expense, and Complexity of Continued Litigation is Especially 11 Significant Given the ear Certainty of Appeal Regardless of Trial Outcome, and 12 All of This Justifies the Amount of the Settlement That Was Accepted.

13 The terms of the proposed settlement make a maximum of $200 available for 14 the eligible claimants, including $80 for non-economic damages (i.e., compensation 15 for shotpain), and up to $120 for economic damages (i.e., document out-of-pocket cost 16 to obtain the shot). The per-claim amount is made available for up to 3,000 eligible 17 claimants, and thus means, depending on eligible claims-made, the TFI Defendants 18 have agreed to pay up to a total of $600,000 to settle the California subclass claims.
19 The Plaintiff and Class-Representative Jacob Petersen incurred an out-of-pocket cost 20 of $120 for his shot, which is an amount that likely represents the high-end of such 21 costs, given that only the cost of the shot itself is being reimbursed as part of the 22 settlement.

23 In looking at comparable settlements that have been obtained in Hepatitis A 24 shot class-actions, the $200 total available-amount “is still equal to the amount that 25 [Plaintiffs counsel] obtained in many prior cases. Marler Decl., ¶10, at 8.⁸ Moreover, 26 even though the $80 recovery for non-economic damages (shot-pain) is a relatively 27

28 ⁸ For details of prior settlement amounts, see Marler Declaration, ¶6, at 5-7.

1 lower amount as against the amount available for economic damages, the 2 compensation for the pain that is associated with a single shot is difficult to difficult to 3 assess, making it even more difficult to predict what a jury might award. There is also 4 the risk that the Court's decision that shot-pain is a compensable injury would be 5 subject to appeal, making the legal basis for this aspect of the award more uncertain 6 still. Consequently, the amount of the settlement available per-claim ($200) is what 7 deserves the greatest focus. And that per-claim amount is wholly in line with past 8 settlements, and an accurate reflection of the legal risks, and the expense and 9 complexity of continued litigation. The fact that TFI Defendants agreed to pay up to 10 $150,000 toward the notice and claims-administration costs is also of great benefit to 11 the Plaintiff and Settlement Class, further justifying the settlement amount.

12 D. The Additional Compensation-a Service Award-to the Plaintiff is Justified By the 13 Significant Time and Effort He Has Invested on Behalf of the Class, and the 14 Positive Outcome His Efforts Has Achieved.

15 The Plaintiff and Class-Representative, Jacob Petersen, has very capably served 16 the interests of California subclass for over five years, investing significant time and 17 effort in doing so. Petersen Decl., ¶4, at 2-3. Not only was he deposed, and assisted 18 in responding to discovery, he made himself available for trial on more than one 19 occasion, and assisted in all aspects of trial preparation-twice. Id. He was an active 20 participant in all settlement negotiations, willing to allow the case to go to trial if that 21 would obtain a better result for class members. Id., ¶5, at 3. Finally, he was closely 22 involved in the lead-up preparation to the most recent mediation, and fully reviewed 23 and approved the terms of the settlement on his own behalf and behalf of California 24 subclass members. Id., ¶¶7-8, at 3-4.

25 Incentive or service awards are commonly found appropriate when evaluated 26 using relevant factors including, specifically, an evaluation of:

27 the actions that the plaintiff has taken to protect the interests of the class, 28 the degree to which the class has been benefitted from those actions

1 [and] the amount of time and effort the plaintiff expended in pursuing the 2 litigation.

3 Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d at 977 (quotation omitted). Based on these 4 factors, courts in this Circuit have approved service awards of $5,000 for litigation
5 that required much less time and effort. See, e.g., McKenzie v. Federal Express, 2012 6 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 103666, *32 (C.D. Dist. July 2, 2012) (approving award in 7 employment action that lasted less than a year from the lawsuit being filed to 8 preliminary approval of settlement agreement). Such awards are also most 9 appropriate when, as in the present case, not conditioned on a class representative 10 approving the settlement, and when the award does nothing to reduce the amounts 11 available to the class. Cf. “Radcliffe, 715 F.3d at 1163 (explaining careful scrutiny is 12 required where award to class representative potentially creates a conflict of interest).

13 Because in the present case the $2,500 additional award is based solely on the 14 work that the Plaintiff and class representative, Jacob Petersen, has done on behalf of 15 the class, including the willingness to go to trial and the preparations needed for that, 16 and because the award does not reduce the amount available to class members, the 17 additional award to the Plaintiff is appropriate and deserves preliminary approval.

18 VI. PROPOSED NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT IS REASONABLE AND SUFFICIENT.

19 In addition to determining the “preliminary fairness” of the settlement 20 agreement, the Court must also consider the sufficiency of the notice-plan that the 21 parties proposed. More specifically, the plan must provide for the “best notice that is 22 practicable under the circumstances.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B); see also Phillips 23 Petroleum Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S. 797, 811-12, 105 S. Ct. 2965 (1985). In addition, 24 the content and method of the notice must advise class members of the settlement 25 terms and of their rights. Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S.
26 306, 314, 70 S. Ct. 652 (1950). Specifically, the notice is satisfactory if “it generally 27 describes the terms of the settlement in sufficient detail to alert those with adverse 28 viewpoints to investigate and to come forward and be heard.” Churchill Village, LLC

1 v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 575 (9th Cir. 2004) (citing Mendoza v. United States, 623
2 F.2d 1338, 1352 (9th Cir. 1980)). Notice mailed to each member of a settlement class 3 “who can be identified through reasonable effort” constitutes reasonable notice. Eisen
4 v. Carlisle & Jacquelin, 417 U.S. 156, 175, 94 S. Ct. 2140, (1973). Finally, even 5 though members of the settlement class must be given the opportunity to object, there 6 is no need for a second opt-out opportunity. See Low v. Trump University, 881 F.3d
7 1111 (9th Cir. 2017) (holding there is no due process right to a second opt-out 8 opportunity for the class members who did not opt-out after received notice of trial).
9 Nonetheless, all class members are still being given the opportunity to request 10 exclusion from the settlement.

11 In the present case, the Court previously approved a plan for opt-out notices 12 that involved the mailing of “short-form” postcard notices that directed class members 13 to a website where the “long-form” notice could be found, along with additional 14 information about the lawsuit and its claims, and a questionnaire to allow potential 15 class members to determine if the requirements of class membership are met. See 16 Order, Dkt. 295. After notice was mailed, the Plaintiff lodged a report on opt-out 17 requests and other details of the notice provided to class members. See Notice of 18 Lodging & Attached Report, Dkt. 351. A supplemental report was lodged a week 19 later to provide the Court with additional information about the break-down by state 20 of individuals who had registered as class members, the total being 1,803 individuals, 21 with 1,065 of those being from California. See Supplemental Declaration, ¶6, at 3, 22 and Exhibit C, Dkt. 352.

23 The Settling Parties propose that notice be provided in substantially the same 24 way that the opt-out notices were provided—i.e., mailed postcards that direct class 25 members to a website. Because the settlement involves only California subclass 26 claims, only those class members who resided or purchased the recalled product in 27 California would be mailed the postcard. Returns from the last mailing would be used 28 to prevent a similar return in this mailing, thus no follow-up mailings would be 1 required.

2 In addition, as with the last notice-plan, an online questionnaire would be used 3 to determine if class members met the requirements of the settlement, including the 4 online affirmation under penalty of perjury that the information provided is truthful.
5 For those who were making claim for economic damages, the requirement of “legible, 6 documentary proof of the actual cost paid out of pocket” would also be submitted 7 online. The required information and documentary proof, if any, would need to be 8 submitted within 21 days of receiving notice, and in no case more than 30 days from 9 the date of mailing.

10 Finally, through the website, all members of the settlement class will be given 11 the chance to object to the terms of settlement or to request to be excluded from 12 settlement. Any objections that are received will then be submitted to the Court as 13 part of the process for seeking final approval of the settlement.

14 Copies of the postcard-notice and long-form notice are included in the 15 Appendix to this Memorandum as Exhibits D and E. Once finalized, a full-copy of 16 the website will be provided to the Court, including the eligibility questionnaire that 17 will be used. Once the preliminary approval of the settlement is obtained, and a notice 18 administrator is retained, a link to the not-yet-online website to be further reviewed.

19 VII. CONCLUSION

20 For the factual and legal reasons set forth above, as well as for the support that 21 is provided in the Declarations filed with this Memorandum, it is respectfully 22 requested that the Court preliminarily approve the settlement and the proposed notice 23 plan.
